Novel Ideas

Units of Work for the Secondary Classroom

Choosing novels to use in the secondary classroom is not always an easy task. To make your decisions easier, we have developed a series of 'ready to go' units of work for your use. Written by renowned children's book specialists and educationalists Dr Pam Macintyre and Dr Susan La Marca, these units will provide you with fun and interesting ways in which to engage your students through contemporary literature.

For each unit you will find:

- Year level recommendation
- Background on the book
- Key focus – including a range of activities
- Links to VELS (though these outcomes can easily be transferred to other curricula)
- Assessment tasks
- Further reading

Units for the following titles are now available:

Betweenthelines.com.au is the space your students have been waiting for.

Betweenthelines.com.au is an Australian website dedicated to providing a safe space for young people, aged 15 and over to discuss books and interact with authors and editors.

With a dedicated board to discuss all things literary, BTL is an Australian publishing first. Members can get involved in all areas – from posting forum threads on the discussion board to author chats, book blogs and voting contests.

Send your students to betweenthelines.com.au

my first library

My First Library is an all new Penguin resource for those charged with the selection of books for children aged 0-6.

My First Library will offer lists of books according to age, theme, interests, gender and 'best seller status' and will have information on reading aloud to children, author events and new and forthcoming titles from Penguin.

Each month there will be prizes to give away, literacy tips and an opportunity to share your recommendations of books to other parents, grandparents and carers.

This much anticipated website, myfirstlibrary.com.au will launch in March 2010.

Teachers' Notes

Teachers' Notes are complimentary, and are available at penguin.com.au/teachers

*Notes available during 2010. Authors of Teachers' Notes can be found on-line.
